

INFER

make conclusions based on evidence

- ? Why do we infer?
To draw conclusions, make predictions, and reflect on what we read
  - 🕒 When do we infer?
Before, during, and after reading.
  - ? How do we infer?
Look at pictures and make statements like:
“I think...”, “Maybe.....”, “It could be....”, “My guess is...”
-

INFER

make conclusions based on evidence

- ? Why do we infer?
To draw conclusions, make predictions, and reflect on what we read
- 🕒 When do we infer?
Before, during, and after reading.
- ? How do we infer?
Look at pictures and make statements like:
“I think...”, “Maybe.....”, “It could be....”, “My guess is...”

INFER: PRACTICE

Infer to answer the questions.

Circle the correct answers.

1.

Melinda blew out the candles quickly. She could not wait any longer. She knew what was waiting inside the big present box!

My guess is that it is:

Melinda's birthday

a school play

the Fourth of July

2.

There were banana peels everywhere! Snuggles must have eaten them all. But where was Snuggles now? I looked up and saw a long tail disappear out the window.

Maybe Snuggles is a:

ghost

pirate

monkey

3.

Betsy looked in the refrigerator. She didn't like anything she saw. She never enjoyed yogurt. Pickles were yucky. And she never drank orange juice. Her tummy growled.

I think that Betsy is:

excited

hungry

a vampire

4.

The Team Red was ahead by two runs. But Team Blue had their best batter, Marty Mizpit, at the plate. The pitch came flying in, but Marty was ready!

It could be that they are:

playing baseball

at the zoo

fighting